

Accessibility Measures at Sanskrithi School of Engineering

In accordance with the UGC Accessibility Guidelines and Standards for Higher Education Institutions, Sanskrithi School of Engineering, Puttaparthi has taken significant steps to create a barrier-free and inclusive campus environment for persons with disabilities and elderly individuals.

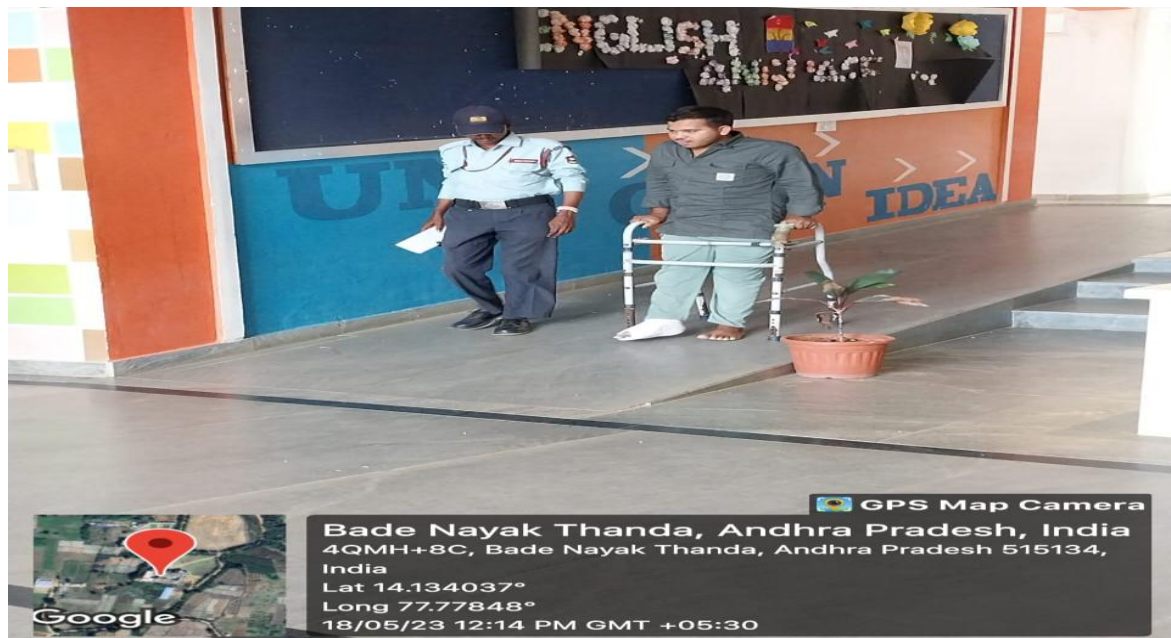

The institution has established barrier-free physical infrastructure

- Ramps: Ramps with appropriate slope and handrails are provided at the main entrances of academic blocks, administrative offices, library, laboratories, and other common facilities, ensuring unhindered access to all essential areas.

- Wheelchair Accessibility: The institution has made provision of wheelchairs within the campus to support the mobility needs of students, faculty, staff, and visitors who may require assistance. Dedicated pathways and sufficient turning space are maintained to enable free movement.

- Disabled-Friendly Washrooms: Specially designed washrooms are available in academic and administrative buildings. These washrooms are equipped with wider doors, grab bars, anti-slip flooring, and sufficient manoeuvring space to ensure safety, privacy, and independence for users.

- Signage and Way finding: Clear and visible signage with universal symbols are displayed to guide differently-abled persons across campus facilities.

2. Supportive Facilities and Services

- Accessible Seating Arrangements: Classrooms, seminar halls, and examination halls are arranged to accommodate wheelchair users and ensure equitable participation.
- Elderly-Friendly Environment: Considerations such as ramps, handrails in corridors, and seating spaces at regular intervals have been incorporated to provide comfort and support to elderly faculty members, visitors, and stakeholders.
- Transport Assistance: Wheelchair users and elderly persons are provided with assistance when moving between distant buildings within the campus.

These measures reflect the institution's commitment to inclusivity, accessibility, and equal participation of all members of the academic community.
